

Gardener/builder seeking rural living situation for self and/or others

Date posted to EcoProperty.ca: Dec 28, 2008

Location: North York ON, Canada

Greetings!

I am seeking dialog with a sympathetic or likeminded landowner(s), in South or Central Ontario, for an eventual rural space to settle/lease/homestead/assist? in wholistic gardening/farming/eco-building/maintenance... for me as an individual male...with own RV to live in. One of the feaures which I seek is a relatively clear electrical-frequency field. (I have the measuring equipment for that assessment) An option could be to cohabit separately from likeminded owner who still wants to stay on property but would like negotiated help with the upkeep and possibly explore income-sustaining activity.

AND/OR :

Likeminded folks who would like to pursue a cooperative rural sustainable living modality...including purchase or co-lease of land. I propose that the "food-growing" component be a central basis of such modality and from which other relevant, grounding , complementary living aspects naturally develop. This is an appeal to any who see such intentional modelings as long-overdue necessities for meaningful social survival. There are sufficient precedents for such enterprise and its formative prerequisites...unique to each combination of responsible beings.

Shall we explore the possibilities and parameters of this ???

If so:

Please contact me at: villager@aci.on.ca

Based upon interest, i am prepared to have regular meetings to this intent, and will update contacts regularly.

What I bring to this : (More than can be shared here... :)

- 1- Have most tools/machinery to operate a good CSA and/or variation enterprise.
- 2- Have done this for 15 years.
- 3- Have co-founded,coordinated, a thriving unique community garden in the GTA.
- 4- Have over 35 yrs. of inventive renovation/building experience and most relevant tools.
- 5- Have as many years of acquired insight in social dynamics/principles required for such creative collective organism.
- 6- Have years of various "intentional" community living experience.
- 7- Have ,still, patience and humor necessary for even entertaining such notions!!