First I fell in love with the Mochet Velocar. Now here's another French quadracycle to add to my wish list! Designed by Hugues Escarguel, the QX4 boasts triple disc brakes, double wishbone suspension up front and swingarm suspension out back. The aluminium-framed QX4 weighs just under 60 lbs (27 kg) "sans pedales". There's no differential in the rear axle, but on loose surfaces like dirt and gravel, there isn't much need for one either.

You can't put a price on fun.

The bike, on the other hand, will set you back
