The Last Five Years 2008 - 2013

CKCU 93.1 FM

5 years after '50 Years On' I am still working full time for Investors Group. Still love Rock'n'Roll. I have led the music in church on guitar every Sunday for four years. Still coordinate Alpha Courses across Ottawa and organize parenting and marriage courses Kanata. Still broadcast twice a month on ckcufm.com. Bottom line: at 72 I am blessed with health and energy and very happy. Every day starts with the Word. Here are some specific events culled from my Facebook timeline: Laurie-Ann and I marked our 10 year anniversary with a holiday in UK (Holy Island, London, Anglesey) and Paris. The Anglesey part was RAF Valley to see son James and daughter-in-law Kathy.

In May 2010 we led a Global Alpha Training 2-week mission to Freetown, Sierra Leone. Worked with the local Alpha organization to present the use of the Alpha Course to a large group of pastors. It was a particular thrill for me to be reunited with my dear friend Emma Dupigny, now a school principal, who saw me off from Norwich airport when I emigrated in 1987. On 11 Feb 2011 I hosted an appreciation event for my financial clients, bringing jazz artist Laila Biali with her trio to play a concert in the National Gallery of Canada. She has become one of my favourite artists and a friend. High point of my financial services career.

May 2012 saw us on a road trip from Ottawa to Las Vegas. James was by now stationed near Vegas with a group of specialist RAF officers. We took a week on the outward trip staying in Colorado 3 days, visiting the Western United State. In Vegas we saw The Beatles – Love. The video of this trip is on YouTube, accessible via my home page above.

Entertaining the More Hall residents, 2012

My last trip to UK was to visit my mother, 95, in More Hall Convent nursing home, Stroud. Very special. 2012 was the year I discovered Nick Drake
